TRAIN SERVICE MAY BE CUT IN THIS DISTRICT

Trains May Be Taken From Roads Entering Cincinnati to Help Coal Situation.

"So far no steps have been taken to cut railroad train service out of Cincinnati because of the coal shortage."

This was the statement Thursday of members of the coal administration committee, of which H. A. Worcester, federal railway director, is chairman.

"It is only a matter of days, however, until the train service will be cut unless there is some change in the situation immediately," it was said.

Train service will be curtailed, if it becomes necessary, in the same way as during the war, fast expresses and so-called "luxury" trains being the first to be annulled.

It became known Thursday that heavy seizures of coal consigned to so-called nonessential industries outside of Cincinnati have been made by several railroads here, in order to keep their engines rolling.

Members of the Coal Committee and John A. Morris, Cincinnati terminal manager, said the Pennsylvania R. R., L. & N. and B. & O. R. R. had absolutely no coal until they seized cars on their tracks.

Morris said the seven roads entering Cincinnati use 75 cars of coal a day for switch and road engines.

JACOBSEN IS WONDERFUL ARTIST WITH THE VIOLIN

Youthful Artist Who is Making Wonderful Record Will Appear Here Thanksgiving Evening.

In speaking of the recent appearance in New York of Sascha Jacobsen, the young genius of the violin, with the New York Symphony Orchestra, Pierre Key, the brilliant critic of the New York World said: "Jacobsen deserves every consideration for which such a brilliant artist is entitled for his playing of the Bruch G minor concerto, was an achievement such as few artists have duplicated. From the outset it was apparent that Mr. Jacobsen would attain unusual things. His opening phrases had the authority, the purity and warmth and size of tone and the hint of sound musicianship. His performance had vigor, brilliance, poetry, and technical facility, to ends that left no doubt of the artistic position which he is entitled to receive."

Mr. Fink, of the New York Post, Mr. Henderson of the New York Sun, in fact all of the New York critics were as enthusiastic as Mr. Key about his performance of the difficult concerto.

Mr. Jacobsen will be heard at the Washington Opera House, Thanksgiving evening, and from comments heard will no doubt play to a capacity house. Reserved seats on sale at Murphy's Jewelry Store, Monday, November 24.

THE MIRACLE MAN ADAPTED FROM COHAN STAGE PLAY

A superb dramatic Paramount-Artcraft feature, "The Miracle Man," which was produced by George Loane Tucker and will be on view at the Washington Theater November 24 and 25, is declared to be one of the really great screen dramas of recent years. It was written by Frank L. Packard and produced as a stage play by Geo. M. Cohan and packed the Broadway theater in the season of 1916-17, where it played for many months. The screen version is said to be even more absorbing and thrilling in its development of the striking story, which shows the marvelous transformation under the beneficent influence of an ennobling environment of four of the most notorious crooks of New York's underworld.

Hearing of the healing powers of this old man of the hills, Tom Burke and his band determine to capitalize them to enrich themselves. Little did they reckon that in their new field of operations they were destined to undergo a magical transformation, and this forms the basis of one of the most thrilling stories ever screened.

A cast of unusual strength portrays the exacting roles in the picture. Tom Meighan, well known as one of the foremost leading men on the screen, has the chief part. Others are Elinor Fair, Betty Compson, Lon Chaney, J. M. Dumont, W. Lawson Butts, F. A. Turner, Lucille Hutton and Joseph J. Dowling.
